National Capital Ontario Baseball Association (NCOBA) and Baseball Ontario

By completing this form as a participant in the NCBL from May 1, 2020 to April 30, 2021, you are committing to abiding by the NCBL's constitution and by-laws (which can be found at <http://www.ncbl.ca/constitution.html>) and you are also registering with both Baseball Ontario and their local association, the NCOBA, as the NCBL's insurance is obtained through these organizations.

Liability Waiver

On behalf of myself and the player being registered if he/she is under 18 years of age, I recognize that baseball entails serious risks. Consequently, except as noted below, I and the player being registered relinquish all rights to a claim of any kind, including the right to a claim for bodily and material damages, regardless of the cause, against Baseball Ontario, its member associations, including the NCBL and the NCOBA, and their respective officers, employees, coaches, umpires, assignees, agents, representatives, and sponsors, even if such damages result from negligence of Baseball Ontario, its member associations, including the NCBL and the NCOBA, and their respective officers, employees, coaches, umpires, assignees, agents, representatives, and sponsors.

Without restricting the generality of the preceding, I and the player being registered also relinquish all rights to any claim against Baseball Ontario, its member associations including the NCBL and the NCOBA, and their respective officers, employees, coaches, umpires, assignees, agents, representatives, and sponsors resulting from a decision on their part, regardless of the nature of this decision.

This release of Baseball Ontario, the NCBL, the NCOBA and the other persons noted above does not preclude myself or the player being registered from making a claim under any sports accident coverage provided by Baseball Ontario and/or the NCOBA to their players.
